

extensively repaired. There were at least three distinct waves and the motion appeared to be from about south by west. Later in the evening two more shocks were felt, but less severe than the first; and well on towards midnight a fourth, which was much lighter than either of the preceding ones. Rumours reach us of various disasters having occurred in the interior, even to the sinking of the earth's surface in one or two places, but no confidence can be placed in such reports. The few who were in the city were very much excited, and every street and alley and open space was filled with frightened people in an incredibly short space of time, and all talking at the top of their voices. It still continues hot and dry, with some indications of rain this evening.

A correspondent writes from Newchwang on the same date:—
"At about 4.45 p.m. to-day there was an earthquake at this port, and we fear that further south, in the Philippine Islands or Japan, perhaps in the direction of Korea, there must be something dreadful happening. Experiences are described in various ways. One family were lingering over afternoon tea, when the vibration commenced. The table shook as if some one were pushing it; chandeliers, glass, tea cups, pictures, etc., were tinkling, and the room furniture was decidedly moving, so much so that on the cry 'Earthquake' everyone popped through the window into the garden, where for a few seconds the ground had a wavy feeling and on looking at the house, the windows, verandahs and verandah were slightly moving. The general feeling was a very uneasy one, two ladies being troubled with incipient sea-sickness. The earthquakes lasted from 12 seconds to five minutes and a half. One minute and a half may be put down as the average duration, after comparing the experiences of several people, in different quarters of the community. No shock or vibration was felt on the water as far as we can learn at present, and even on the Bund there were people, who not suspecting anything, were very much astonished to see others rushing out of their houses, some hatless, and all with a kind of pursued look. There has not been any damage done except to some glassware, which we learn was broken at one of the Chinese stores, but it may turn out that the shaking was more severe in other parts of the province than in the immediate neighbourhood of the port.

"There have been two or three tremblings in the recollection of the oldest foreign residents, the first one being in the summer of 1863 when the great earthquake in Manila took place. Another, which occurred some seven years ago caused the water to rise suddenly (a Bore) although the tide had commenced to fall, and the country was flooded.
"We have not heard that any houses fell yesterday. At H.M.'s Consulate, the Customs, and other residences, the vibration was more or less felt, and people were glad to escape into the open. Natives say that many years ago the Province was often similarly visited, and that is the reason why houses are not built in the stories, and also why the roof is not supported out, by the party walls, but by wooden pillars, the bricks being used only to keep out the weather, and built up after the roof is actually put on. There is some sense in this, as should an earthquake cause the brickwork to fall, the roof, being on pillars and independent as it were, would still remain, and the danger to the inhabitants would thus be limited."

NOTES FROM CHINESE PAPERS.

At the examinations for the Tsin Shi degree (doctorate) at Peking this year, the candidates from Kiangsi and Chekiang were few in number, while over 500 men from Kwangtung presented themselves.

The Shen Pao states that prolonged drought has prevailed at Ling-kow, in Liao-tung (Manchuria) and the barley is in a critical state. Food is very dear and water at 100 local cash for a coolie-load of two buckets.

At San-yuen Hien, Shenai, in the Temple of the Tuley God of the City, there is a fine work of art in clay representing hell, and the merchants are accustomed to smear the mouths of the devils with opium for luck in business.

The Government of Formosa is devoting attention to the growing of mulberry-trees and extension of sericulture in that rich island. The silk already produced, whether white or yellow, is said to be quite equal to that of Chekiang.

An epidemic is raging at Ningpo, and the incantations of Taoist priests and the sounds of the exorcising gong are heard both within and without the city wall. On several days theatrical performances have been held and processions have gone round in honour of Kwan Ti, the god of war, for the same purpose.

In the Shin Pao and Hu Pao appears a very well written protest by some foreign ladies of Shanghai (White Shield Society) against immorality, which will no doubt be considered by all Chinese readers both as an admirable literary production and as a powerful appeal to philanthropy. It is worded much in the style of the frequent leaders in the native press on the same subject.

A Peking friend writes that the aboriginal hill-tribes at Ma-pien T'ing, Szechuan, have been giving trouble lately, raiding cattle, killing and wounding Chinese, and carrying off a Chinese woman into the mountains. The Viceroy Liu sent soldiers against them, but they resisted and killed one lieutenant, a larger has now been sent with strict orders to capture the leaders of these aborigines.

On 4th June the Kwangtung, Fukien, and Chekiang officials reeling and staggering, gave a grand dinner and theatrical performance to the Yen Shing Kung (Duke) the principal living descendant of Confucius, on the occasion of his leaving Peking to return to K'ü-fow Hien, Shan-tung, the native place of the family of Confucius. The feast and performance began at ten in the morning and ended at four in the afternoon.

Last month as a boat was crossing the Mao-ho lake, west of Sing-kiang Fu, the occupants saw an enormous snake twenty feet long wriggling into a hole in the rocks. They killed it with an iron boat-hook, and the country people dragged it out, and saw that it had a sort of long beard growing from its jaw.
[Snake 16 feet long actually killed near Sarayue tea-district, Fuk-ien, in the summer of 1877.]

On 27th May a battalion of infantry marched to Sin-tek, Tai-pei (North Formosa), by order of the Governor of Formosa to arrest a soldier who, entrusted by the Magistrate of Sin-tek with official despatches, had carelessly in his turn entrusted them to a coolie, entailing a delay of a day in their arrival at their destination. The soldier, being employed in the new Postal or Courier system inaugurated by the Governor, in which the places most important on his delinquency being reported by his chief to H.E., the execution of the soldier was ordered as an example, and this imposing force was sent for his arrest to overawe the natives of Sin Tek who had concealed the man from his pursuers.

The Kao-ka Ngun savages in Formosa have all submitted, the Chief Malaisiah, representing savage villages of Malung and neighbourhood, and the Chief Yukamulung of Tekaka Shan, have handed over 16 children, boys and girls, as hostages for the good behaviour of the aborigines. The savage settlements of Malung also handed over a youth as a hostage, but the Chinese commander sent to watch them, suspecting a ruse, has not yet withdrawn his forces. A Chinese interpreter or linguist named Si Tz-shih, who, when formerly residing at Kao-ka Ngun, had been worse than any of the savages, giving them information to guide them on their slaughtering and marauding expeditions against his own countrymen, has been executed, his crimes having been clearly proved.

GOVERNMENT NOTIFICATION.

NOTICE has been received from the MILITARY AUTHORITIES that large practice will take place on the 2nd July from Kowloon West Battery.

The range will be from the Battery to a point about 400 yards off the South West Point of Stone Cutters' Island.

FREDERICK STEWART, Colonial Secretary's Office, Hongkong, 28th June, 1888. [653]

GOVERNMENT NOTIFICATION.

THE following is published for general information.
By Command.

FREDERICK STEWART, Colonial Secretary's Office, Hongkong, 28th June, 1888.

BRITISH VICE-CONSULATE, ILOILO, 25th May, 1888.

DIRECTIONS FOR ENTERING THE PORT OF ILOILO.

AFTER rounding Anil (Southeast point of Panay) steep E.N.E. magnetic course for St. Ana or the island of Guimaras, and as the coast is bold can stand close in until Point Caballero and Cape Bondolin are in a line; then steer straight up passing 1 mile off Cape Caballero and 200 yards off Bondolin.

These instructions are given as on entering the Port of Iloilo, Cape Bondolin and Dapdap which are very prominent heads (the latter being at Northern entrance to the harbour) are often mistaken by strangers when entering from the South for Points Caballero and Bondolin, thus causing them to steer their vessels on to the Otton Bank. Caballero being no higher than the rest of the coast in looking from the Westward is difficult to distinguish, but from St. Ana or the South is easily recognised.

Commercial.

TO-DAY.

The principal business since our last report has been in Lagers, shares having changed hands at as high as 60 and there are further buyers. A fair amount of transactions have also been put through in the Co's Scrip, chiefly at 77, and there are more buyers at 78. The Rone Co's shares have increased greatly in public favor of late, none being on offer at a lower rate than 70. China Sugars and Steamboats appear to be, if anything, a trifle weaker. Nothing else needs special reference.
